

Nursing

Lines Generation and Application of Knowledge:

1. HIV / AIDS on vulnerable groups. Transfer and create knowledge that enables the modeling explanatory / predictive and interventions aimed at preventing HIV infections and promoting sexual and reproductive health in vulnerable groups, such as, adolescents (school, marginalized communities, situation the street), parents of teens (marginalized communities, low education) and housewives (border, marginalized communities). Leader: Raquel Benavides Torres, PhD.
2. Addiction Prevention: legal and illegal drugs. Manages an emphasis on health promotion, prevention of the use and abuse of legal and illegal drugs, careful risk management in the treatment and rehabilitation. Applying models of care based on scientific evidence, to help in reducing drug demand through nursing interventions and multi-controlled, implemented in the community and specific groups. Leader: Dr. Maria Magdalena Alonso Castillo.
3. Self Care in Diabetes Mellitus and Risk Factors: Develop basic and applied research and multi / trans disciplinary on explanatory and predictive factors of self-care and health and disease management in diabetes, obesity and other diseases and develop technology risk health care groups and individuals with Diabetes. Leader: Esther C. Cabrales Gallegos, PhD
4. Functionality Adaptation to Aging: Integrating theoretical models of adaptation and functionality to transfer studies practice. Leader: Bertha Cecilia Salazar González, PhD
5. Administration and management of nursing care: Generate research with focus on Nursing Care Administration with an emphasis on quality of care. Develop research based on the impact of nursing interventions based on innovative models of care. Leader: Dr. Maria Guadalupe Moreno Monsivais.

Services:

- Program Beware! to prevent HIV / AIDS in Young
- Management Focus Groups
- Private Nursing Research
- Design Quality Indicators